CHICAGO, IL 60641

At age 7 after reading Alice's Adventures in Wonderland and Through the Looking-Glass, I began to understand puns and riddles for the first time which resulted in my lifelong enjoyment of word play, puns, limericks, and cryptic puzzles. But I was also fascinated by Tenniel's interpretations of the Wonderland characters. Over the next thirty years I obtained several other illustrated Alice titles. Ovenden's The Illustrators of Alice (1972) revealed to me many other representations and I began earnestly collecting, primarily first printings. Although many English language editions were derivative of Tenniel or Disney, others were original including Laurencin, Dali, and Moser. Pogany's chorus line playing cards and Steadman's union cards were especially clever. Among foreign language editions, the Russian translations were particularly engrossing and the "ethnic" Alice's of the Swahili or Australian Aboriginal further extended the possibilities.

Realizing that I could not reasonably possess the plethora of illustrators, my attention turned to bibliographical and biographical references to Carroll and Tenniel. Parodies and Alice continuations followed, then Alice in entertainment - sheet music, plays, theatre programs, recordings, etc. Alice in popular culture was another theme, manifest by cartoons, comic books, and advertising. Nevertheless, images of Alice characters remained my primary interest.

Many of the items in this catalogue were gathered from visits to bookstores, bookfairs, auctions, and antique shops. Personal offers from dealers in the United States and Great Britain added to the collection, as did the many contributions from family and friends who scoured bookshops around the world. The advent of the internet dampened "the fun of the search", but the collection continued to grow until recent years. Now it seems appropriate to return these items to Alice enthusiasts. Thanks to the many relatives, friends, and dealers who assisted in the growth of this collection over the course of 45 years. A special thank you to Christopher Brink for his diligence in the preparation of this catalogue. Lastly, my sincere gratitude and appreciation to my wife, Nancy, who accommodated my obsession (and used several rooms in our house) for these many years.

- Steve Farber

THE BOOKS

1. DODGSON, Charles Lutwidge ("Lewis Carroll") (1832-1898). Alice's Adventures in Wonderland. New York: D. Appleton, 1866.

8vo (192 x 127 mm). Half-title, with 42 illustrations by John Tenniel. (Some very occasional spotting at margins, else fine). Original gilt decorated red cloth, edges gilt, black coated endpapers (rebacked preserving original spine and endpapers, some soiling to covers). Provenance: penciled gift inscription on half-title dated Christmas 1867.

FIRST EDITION, second (i.e. American) issue, comprising sheets of the suppressed 1865 printing of Alice with new title-page; the variant (no priority) with the "B" in "By" aligned between the "T" and "E" of "Tenniel" on the title-page, and without the hyphen in "Rabbit Hole" on the Contents leaf. "This second issue comprises those copies of the first edition still unbound when Lewis Carroll decided in July 1865 to cancel the edition. In 1866 the copies on hand were sold to Appleton, and [1000] new title-pages were printed at Oxford, replacing the originals. The binding was evidently done in England, duplicating that for the first issue except in the substitution of Appleton's name for Macmillan at the foot of the spine and in the omission of a [Burn & Co.] binder's ticket. Textually the Appleton issue agrees with the Macmillan 1865, the only difference being the cancel title-page" (Lewis Carroll at Texas: The Warren Weaver Collection, 2). RARE IN ORIGINAL CLOTH. Lovett 2; PMM 354 (the first issue); Williams 9; Williams-Madan-Green-Crutch 44.

[With:] DODGSON. Through the Looking-Glass, and What Alice Found There. London: Macmillan and Co., 1872 [1871]. 8vo (186 x 127 mm). Half-title, one-page publisher's ad for Dodgson's works on Q1v; frontispiece and illustrations by John Tenniel. Original red cloth gilt, edges gilt, black coated endpapers, bound by Burns & Co. with original bookbinder's ticket on rear pastedown (very light rubbing at extreme ends); housed together with above title in a cloth folding box. Provenance: contemporary gift inscription on half-title dated Christmas 1871.

FIRST EDITION, FIRST STATE of p. 21, with the misprint "wade" for "wabe" in the second line of the poem "Jabberwocky", and with pagination for both page 95 page 98 (no priority). A NEAR FINE COPY with a scarce gift inscription dating the actual publication to December 1871 and not 1872 as is printed on the title-page. Laid in with the rare 4pp. leaflet "To All Child-Readers of 'Alice's Adventures in Wonderland'" as issued. Lovett 13; Williams-Madan-Green-Crutch 84.

THE RICHARD DOYLE COPY

2. DODGSON, Charles Lutwidge ("Lewis Carroll") (1832-1898). Alice's Adventures in Wonderland. London: Macmillan and Co., 1866 [1865]. 8vo (191 x 122 mm).

Half-title, with 42 illustrations by John Tenniel. Full crushed red levant with gilt borders, butterfly and bee cornerpieces, spine in 6 compartments with raised bands, gilt-lettering in two, others decorated in gilt, gilt edges, dentelles, marbled endpapers; original cloth bound in at end. (Some light soiling to half title and title at outer margin, else fine).

Provenance: Sotheby's London, November 1-2, 1937, Lot 63; Max Charles Gaines (1894-1947), bookplate of co-publisher of All-American Publications, who is considered the pioneering figure in the creation of the modern comic book. His son was the legendary Bill Gaines, publisher and co-editor of EC Comics and Mad magazine.

SECOND EDITION (i.e. FIRST AUTHORIZED EDITION) and First Published English Edition, earliest state with the inverted "S" in the last line of the Contents page. For this new edition published November 1865 (but dated 1866 for the Christmas market) the book was re-set by the printer Richard Clay from a copy of the suppressed 1865 Alice, forming the basis for all future Macmillan editions.

PRESENTATION COPY, INSCRIBED BY DODGSON TO BRITISH ILLUSTRATOR RICHARD DOYLE (1824-1883) on the half-title using his real name which is exceedingly rare as Dodgson was careful to protect his privacy and to prevent his serious mathematical works from being linked with his books for children. As early as August 1866 Dodgson entertained the thought of writing a sequel to Alice's Adventures which would use up what he remembered of several more stories told to the three Liddell girls. Dodgson had difficulty finding an artist to illustrate the work as Tenniel refused to do it, insisting that one book by Lewis Carroll was all he felt, in 1866, that he could stand. Dodgson then visited the artists of the day, beginning with Doyle (well-known for being the uncle of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, author of the Sherlock Holmes stories) at the advice from Tenniel (see Handbook p. 63), who in the year prior (1866) was sent this presentation copy of Alice (see Letters, p. 36 footnote). In one of his diary entries dated 24 January 1867, Dodgson wrote: "Called on [Richard] Doyle, and discussed the idea of his illustrating Alice [i.e. Through the Looking-Glass: Dodgson generally found his artist before writing his book]. He seems willing to undertake it, but not certain that he could get them done by next Christmas. We left the matter unsettled for the present" (see Diaries p. 249). Dodgson ultimately decided that "Tenniel is the man", and in June 1868 Tenniel consented to illustrate it.

[With:] DODGSON. Through the Looking-Glass, and What Alice Found There. London: Macmillan and Co., 1872 [1871]. 8vo (181 x 121 mm). Half-title, one-page publisher's ad for Dodgson's works on Q1v; frontispiece and illustrations by John Tenniel. Uniformly bound as the title above. (Some spotting to half-title, few tiny spots or soiling to first few pages, else fine). Provenance: Max Charles Gaines (1894-1947), bookplate. FIRST EDITION, FIRST STATE of p. 21, with the misprint "wade" for "wabe" in the second line of the poem "Jabberwocky", and with the pagination for page 95 but lacking the pagination for page 98 (no priority). Lovett 13; Williams-Madan-Green-Crutch 84.

WHO STOLE THE TARTS?

"Here the Queen put on her spectacles and began staring hard at the Hatter, who turned pale and fidgeted... 'Give your evidence,' said the King; 'and don't be nervous, or I'll have you executed on the spot.' This did not seem to encourage the witness at all; he kept shifting from one foot to the other, looking uneasily at the Queen, and in his confusion he bit a large piece out of his teacup instead of the bread-and-butter. All this time the Queen had never left off staring at the Hatter, and, just as the Dormouse crossed the court, she said to one of the officers of the court, 'Bring me the list of singers in the last concert!' on which the wretched Hatter trembled so, that he shook both his shoes off." (Excerpt from p. 170 where the woodcut of the drawing appears).

3. DODGSON, Charles Lutwidge ("Lewis Carroll") (1832-1898). Alice's Adventures in Wonderland. London: Macmillan and Co., 1866 [1865].

8vo (194 x 127 mm). Half-title, with 42 illustrations by John Tenniel. Original red cloth, gilt-stamped, spine gilt-lettered, edges gilt (rebacked preserving original spine and endpapers, extremities darkened, textblock a bit shaken and a bit worn at corners, several marginal repairs); slipcase.

PRESENTATION COPY, INSCRIBED BY THE ILLUSTRATOR JOHN TENNIEL WITH AN ORIGINAL DRAWING ON THE HALF-TITLE: "With [monogram] JT's kind regards / Xmas 1867" underneath which is a reverse image drawing of A38 (the woodcut appearing on p. 170) showing the Mad Hatter with tea-cup and toast. ONE OF ONLY 5 KNOWN COPIES OF DRAWINGS MADE BY TENNIEL AS PART OF INSCRIPTIONS IN BOOKS according to Schiller's 1990 census (this is letter "b" on that list) but one of only 2 copies of an original Tenniel drawing in an 1866 Alice.

A UNIQUE COPY, with no other drawings of this version of the Mad Hatter (A38) listed in that census of presentation copies. It is reproduced in Frances Sarzano's 1948 monograph on Sir John Tenniel, in the series "English Masters of Black-and-White," p. 57, where it is identified as the property of H.M. Lingford; this was sold at Sotheby's London as part of his important "Lewis Carroll" library, 6 November 1952, as lot 201.

In 1863, Dodgson began contemplating whether he should publish his story of Alice but was doubtful of how it would be received. His friend Robinson Duckworth, who was present on the original boating expedition where Alice's adventures were first told, reassured him that it would be successful just so long as he could persuade "some good artist to illustrate it", and suggested John Tenniel who drew excellent cartoons of animals in Punch. The two were introduced on 25 January 1864 and shortly after Tenniel wrote back telling Dodgson that he was up to the task. "As Dodgson could not illustrate his stories himself, he did the next best thing, he employed an expert artist to make the illustrations which he could see in his own mind but lacked the skill to reproduce on paper, paying for the work himself and, so far as possible, 'using' the artist as if he were a piece of machinery hired for the purpose. This explains why Tenniel's illustrations are so much a part of the two Alice books that no other artist has ever come near to equaling them" (Green, Lewis Carroll pp. 42-43).

26. [MOSER, Barry, illustrator]. – DODGSON, Charles Lutwidge (“Lewis Carroll”) (1832-1898). Alice’s Adventures in Wonderland [and] Through the Looking-Glass and What Alice Found There. West Hatfield, MA: Pennyroyal Press, 1982.

2 volumes, large folio. Calligraphic titles designed by G.G. Laurens, marginal notes and chapter headings printed in red, blue and green; 95 wood-engraved illustrations in both volumes by Moser; BOTH VOLUMES WITH AN EXTRA SUITE OF THE ENGRAVINGS EACH SIGNED IN PENCIL BY MOSER, including the “Dear Reader” leaf in Alice also signed, together loose in grey cloth portfolios as issued. Original morocco-backed and edged boards gilt, gilt-lettered spine; each housed with suite in original morocco-backed folding boxes (small stain on fore-edge of both boxes). Laid in with letterpress preliminary announcements for both titles.

FIRST MOSER EDITIONS, LIMITED ISSUES, number 153 of 350 copies SIGNED BY MOSER on both colophons. A monumental project, the Pennyroyal Alice took nearly two years to produce, was both a commercial and a critical success, winning Barry Moser the American Book Award for Design in 1982. Critics called the illustrations “dark”, but Moser, whose youngest daughter, Madeline, was the model for the Pennyroyal Alice, intended them to be “whimsical and humorous displaying a kind of calculated pandemonium” (see Pennyroyal Checklist). Lovett 425 (Alice).

76. [MOORE, Suzanne, artist]. – DODGSON, Charles Lutwidge ("Lewis Carroll") (1832-1898). Jabberwocky. Ashfield, MA, 1986.

A calligraphic manuscript executed in various colors on gold daffodil-yellow paper in the form of an equilateral triangle (3 ½" on each side), which folds out to a panorama of over four feet long with text on both sides. Notes from Martin Gardner's "Annotated Alice", in a small, sinuous italic hand, are interwoven with the text. Housed in a triangular case of handmade decorative paper within a fitted book-style of black silk. A unique artist's book recreating Dodgson's nonsense poem that was included in his 1871 novel Through the Looking-Glass.

77. [FORE-EDGE PAINTING]. COWPER, William (1731-1800). Poems. London: J. Johnson, 1798-1815.

3 volumes, small 8vo (162 x 95 mm). Full contemporary red straight-grain morocco gilt, "F.M." initials gilt-stamped on upper covers, edges gilt, EACH VOLUME CONCEALING A FORE-EDGE PAINTING depicting characters from Alice in Wonderland including Alice, Mad Hatter, White Rabbit, and the Queen of Hearts (joints and corners a bit rubbed, vol. 3 chipped at head, front joint touched up). Provenance: "F.M." stamped on covers; A.M.C. (ownership initials dated 1807).

78. [STEADMAN, Ralph, et al, illustrators]. – DODGSON, Charles Lutwidge ("Lewis Carroll") (1832-1898). A Wasp in a Wig Exclusive: the missing chapter from Alice [in: "London Telegraph, Sunday Magazine" supplement, 4 September 1977].

Small folio. Color illustrations in the text by Patrick Procktor, Sir Hugh Casson, and Peter Black. Original color pictorial wrappers with an illustration by Ralph Steadman; folding cloth chemise and slipcase.

FIRST APPEARANCE IN PRINT of Dodgson's "lost galley pages" from Through the Looking-Glass, reproduced in facsimile on pp. 12-15 with commentary by Prof. Morton N. Cohen (who has autographed the first page). Tenniel objected to illustrating this episode so the front wrapper and illustrations within have newly conceived designs by these four British artists. Lovett, p. 453 (see note no. 2).

THE "ORIGINAL ALICE'S" OWN COPY

83. DODGSON, Charles Lutwidge ("Lewis Carroll") (1832-1898). Ania v strane chudes [in Cyrillic]. Translated by V. Sirin [pseudonym of Vladimir Nabokov]. Berlin: Izdatel'stov Gamayun, 1923.

8vo (221 x 156 mm). 12 illustrations by S.V. Zalschupin in the Russian Constructivist style. Original blue paper-backed pictorial boards, the upper cover reproducing a design in color by Zalschupin (spine sunned with some light wear at ends, front free endpaper detached); folding cloth chemise and slipcase. Provenance: Alice P. Hargreaves (1852-1934), the "original Alice" (signature in brown ink on the front pastedown); Sir Leicester Harmsworth (Sotheby's, London, 26 March 1947, part lot 2975); The Justin G. Schiller sale, Christie's New York, 9 December 1998, Lot 4, with his booklabel on the chemise.

THE "ORIGINAL ALICE'S" OWN COPY OF THE FIRST EDITION OF NABOKOV'S VALUABLE RUSSIAN TRANSLATION, SIGNED BY ALICE HARGREAVES on the front pastedown. "This important translation into Russian was prepared by Nabokov at the age of 24 while an undergraduate at Cambridge. His faithful yet imaginative version of Dodgson's text has made it one of the most successful renderings of Alice into another language" (Justin G. Schiller Sale). To make the story relevant for a Russian audience, Nabokov retold it in a Russian style and gave Alice a new name: "Ania", perhaps to avoid the perceived German origin of the name Alice (a country that was unpopular at that time in Russia) or to avoid the name of the Empress Alexandra Fedorovna (Alix of Hesse), wife of tsar Nicholas II, infamously murdered by the Bolsheviks in July 1918.

Since its publication, many attempts at translating Alice had been previously made but all were met with the difficulty of translating Dodgson's wordplay, nonsense verse, and mathematical and logical puzzling. Nabokov's faithful rendering of the English text, using deliberate distortions of the characters' names and nursery rhymes - now considered the best translation - was the work of a young novelist whose reputation for literary playfulness would ultimately rival Dodgson's. His connection with the two Alice works at a young age would become the building material for his prose, and the ironic association for the author who coined the word "nymphet", in his masterpiece: Lolita. "The Alice-books must have influenced Nabokov chiefly and directly in the formation of seeing things in abstract ways and absurd forms... One of the fundamental relationships between Alice's fairy-tale world and Nabokov's oeuvre is the permanent presence of other worlds, other dimensions, the multi-layered interpretation of this world and the beyond, and the possibility of crossing the border between the two" (see Zsuzsa, The Carroll Carroll Pattern. Nabokov and Lewis Carroll).

THIS IMPORTANT TRANSLATION IS NOW "ALMOST AS RARE AS THE SUPPRESSED FIRST EDITION OF CARROLL'S OWN ALICE" (see Morgan/Houghton). "Within twenty years of its publication, copies of [this] translation [...] would be deemed rarities. [Nabokov] later attributed his invitation to teach at Wellesley in 1941 in part to the fact that they had this edition in their Lewis Carroll collection" (Funke, p.47). Nabokov's translation is now "one of the most sought-after of all translations - certainly as highly valued as the early Carroll-inspired creations" (Goodacre, The Real Flood of Translations in Alice in a World of Wonderlands, p. 103).

From the Alice Hargreaves collection of Alice editions and translations, part of which was sold in 1928. Later sold at the important Justin G. Schiller sale of rare Alice material in 1998. Juliar A7.1 (variant a); Lovett 793; Morgan/Houghton p. 132; Weaver pp. 90, 130. 10,000/15,000

84. DODGSON, Charles Lutwidge ("Lewis Carroll") (1832-1898). Алиса у чаробној земљи [in Cyrillic]. Beograd: Izdavač Vreme, 1923. Translated by Stanislav Vinaver.

Square 8vo. Illustrations by Evgenija Gaganidze Samonova ("E.J.C.") including 3 color plates. Original light red boards printed in black, color illustration by Samonova mounted on front board, light orange endpapers (boards a bit bowed, some creasing to mounted illustration, spine gently sunned).

FIRST SERBIAN EDITION. This translation of Alice into the Cyrillic alphabet was done the same year as Nobakov's famous version. "[Vinaver] was a colorful figure and a prolific translator from several languages...His trademark affinity for puns and parodies was congenial to Lewis Carroll's, but in introducing his wordplays, he often neglected some aspects of the original and used considerable poetic license; he himself called the translation a 'retelling'. He is also the only Serbian translator who tried to replace Carroll's parodies with adequate parodies of Serbian poems for children" (Tropin, "Serbian Translations of Alisa" in Alice: In a World of Wonderlands, 1:531).

AN EXTREMELY RARE TRANSLATION, last selling in the rooms in 1923. Not in Lovett. Taylor, Lewis Carroll at Texas 226; Weaver, p. 58.

95. DODGSON, Charles Lutwidge ("Lewis Carroll") (1832-1898). Alicia en el pais de las Maravillas [in Spanish]. Madrid: Editorial Rivadeneyra, [1922].

Small folio. Numerous color illustrations by Santana Bonilla, including two large double-page foldouts to form a panorama. Original pictorial wrappers printed in red and green, color illustration mounted to upper cover (some light splitting at heel).

FIRST SPANISH EDITION, which Weaver erroneously states that this edition was in the Catalan language. On 10 November 1876, George Craik (Dodgson's contact at Macmillan) wrote to Dodgson about the idea of Spanish and Portuguese translations of Alice appearing in magazines. He wrote: "I fear there is little chance of making money out of such translations anywhere. I believe the kindest advice is to dissuade translators from attempting to gain by their work..." It would be nearly half a century later until Dodgson's Alice would be translated into Spanish. Rare in this fine of condition. Not in Lovett; Weaver, p. 134.

8vo. Numerous wood-engraving illustrations by Conan-Davies. Original black-lettered red cloth (spine and some edges sunned). Provenance: Red Cross and St. John (stamps on front pastedown and on p. 29).

FIRST COMPLETE SWAHILI EDITION (a translation in Swahili of Chapter I was published in 1911), with text that is completely adapted for Swahili children and probably the first Alice to illustrate the main protagonist as a young Black girl from Africa. "Little Elisi has short kinky hair that is braided into rows. She wears a white wrap dress with a diagonal decorative pattern that reaches just below her knees, most probably a khangha cloth. She has no shoes. Conan-Davies [...] therefore portrays a sociopolitical and cultural environment that is completely Swahilized" (Hadjivayanis, "The Swahili Elisi" in Alice in a World of Wonderlands, p. 569). Hadjivayanis calls the Swahili Elisi "a scarce book", with only one copy of the 1940 edition present on Copac (the research libraries catalogue of the UK and Ireland). Lovett 827 (1961 edition); Weaver, p. 134.

EPHEMERA, ILLUSTRATION ART & PRINTS

The Residence,
Ripon
Jan. 12. 1867.

My dear "Gina,"
(I write the name so under protest) On receiving your violent & passionate letter this morning, I immediately telegraphed to my printer in London (who I thought must be to blame in the matter) the following message "O.W.H.H." (I need hardly tell you that those letters are always understood by the Telegraph Company to mean "Off With His Head") and in less than an hour I received the following answer "I.I.D."

140

Ch. Ch. Feb. 1/43

Dear Mr. Dubourg,
Don't trouble yourself to broach the subject of a dramatized "Alice" to Mr. Blunt, as I have myself done so with Mr. German Reed — with what effect, remains to be seen. At Mr. Reed's Gallery, I had the pleasure of being introduced to Mr. Blunt. With kind regards to Mr. Dubourg, & love to Evelyn (if she considers herself young enough for so familiar a message) I am very truly yours
C.L. Dodgson

140. DODGSON, Charles Lutwidge ("Lewis Carroll") (1832-1898). Autograph letter signed ("C.L. Dodgson") to "Gina" [Georgina Mary Balfour], The Residence, Ripon, 12 January 1867.

7 pp. on 2 bifolia, 8vo, some spotting, old folds. Provenance: The Nicholas Falletta Collection of Lewis Carroll, lot 37, Christie's London, 30 November 2005.

CONCERNING THE PHOTOGRAPHING OF CHILDREN AND BABIES.

"On receiving your violent & passionate letter this morning, I immediately telegraphed to my printer in London (who I thought must be to blame in the matter) the following message 'O.W.H.H.' (I need hardly tell you that those letters are always understood by the Telegraph Company to mean 'Off With His Head') and in less than an hour I received the following answer 'I.I.D.' (you know of course that these letters stand for 'It Is Done'). However, I found afterwards that he had not been so much in fault as I supposed, & I regretted having sent such hasty order — but let us quit this painful subject".

The remainder of the letter contains a self-consciously sober and systematic discussion ("you had better rub up your spectacles, & drink a little 'eau sucre' to get your head clear — ahem!") of photographs taken by Dodgson of the recipient and her family, and of the orders made for them, since Gina has accused him of failing to send an order of which he has no note, and in one case of a photograph he cannot remember. Dodgson accordingly lists the ten photographs he took, and the two orders he has since received, noting also that Gina's mother has given him permission to give a photograph to his close friend Robert Godfrey Faussett in Oxford who however "finds himself quite unable to decide which he likes best", and a proposal that Gina bring her baby sister to Oxford to be photographed the next summer: "I took a baby of about that age there last summer (it was a grand-daughter of Dr Pusey) & we managed it by bringing her at her sleeping-time, so that she was easier to take than most grown-up people are". The letter concludes with a characteristically evasive subscription: "is it the right thing to send love to a person, & then sign yourself 'yours truly'? I doubt it — I think a letter should warm up towards the end, & not cool down ...".

GEORGINA BALFOUR WAS ALSO THE RECIPIENT OF AN 1865 SUPPRESSED ALICE. In a letter dated 14 November 1865, Carroll asks that she send her copy back as "the book was so badly printed" (see Cohen, p. 80). Cohen, Letters of Lewis Carroll pp. 96-98.

141. DODGSON, Charles Lutwidge ("Lewis Carroll") (1832-1898). Autograph letter signed ("C.L. Dodgson") to playwright Augustus William Dubourg, Christ Church, Oxford, 1 February 1873.

One page, 12mo, old folds, some spotting.

ALICE ON STAGE. "Don't trouble yourself to broach the subject of a dramatized Alice to Mr. Blunt, as I have myself done so with Mr. German Reed" - with what effect, remains to be seen... [Give my love to Evelyn] if she considers herself young enough for so familiar a message...". Dubourg tried to help Carroll get Alice on to the boards, but a full-fledged stage Alice did not come until Savile Clarke's musical play materialized in 1886. Arthur Cecil Blunt, stage name Arthur Cecil, was a well-known actor that was admired by Carroll, so much so that Carroll suggested the idea of Cecil producing a drama based on Alice or Looking-Glass but it never transpired. Cohen, Letters p. 183.

142. DODGSON, Charles Lutwidge ("Lewis Carroll") (1832-1898). An advertisement from Dodgson regarding the misprinted 1893 edition of "Through the Looking-Glass". Christmas, 1893.

1-page, 8vo. Dodgson writes to the holders of this edition that he is "deeply annoyed to find that the last issue of 'Through the Looking-Glass', consisting of the Sixtieth Thousand, has been put on sale without its being noticed that most of the pictures have failed so much, in printing, as to make the book not worth buying." Dodgson requests that instead of destroying them, he asks them to either return them to Macmillan for an exchange of the next edition or give them away to Mechanics' Institutes, Village Reading-Rooms, and similar institutions.

163. [WHITEHEAD, Ellen, artist]. – DODGSON, Charles Lutwidge (“Lewis Carroll”) (1832-1898). Alice's Wonderland and Looking-Glass Friends. [1886].

Etching (318 x 318 mm) showing some 30 named Woodland characters, evenly toned and with spotting.

A RARE IMAGE that was used as a poster for the first theatrical production of Alice in December 1886. Falconer Madan described the poster (more accurately a theater “filmsey” or an image printed on very thin rice paper) at the Lewis Carroll exhibition at Bumpus in 1932, “Both Alice and Looking-Glass are drawn upon. Perhaps only two copies survived”. This etching appears to be a separately published item using the same image, probably issued as a print for the drawing room or nursery.

AN UNRECORDED AND POSSIBLY UNIQUE ITEM, not listed institutionally or previously at auction. The original drawing is now in the Morgan Library, gifted from Arthur Houghton Jr.'s important Lewis Carroll Collection. “Alice in Wonderland: A Dream Play, in two Acts” opened at the Prince of Wales Theatre two days before Christmas, 1886. Carroll saw it on 30 December for the first time. “The first act (‘Wonderland’) goes well, specially the Mad Tea Party,” he wrote in his diary. “...The second act was flat. The two queens... were very bad... and the ‘Walrus’, etc., had no definite finale. But, as a whole, the play seems a success.” The review in the January issue of Theatre agreed that the production was “a wonderful and surprising success”. The play ran for fifty performances, closing on 26 February 1887.

178. [GREAVES & THOMAS]. Alice's Celestial Globe Depicting the Red Kings dream as witnessed by Alice, recalled by Lewis Carroll and illustrated using the artwork of John Tenniel. Pre-publication proof 1/1. London: Greaves & Thomas, [2001].

A unique prototype celestial globe, replacing the familiar constellations with characters or objects from Alice's Adventures in Wonderland and Through the Looking-Glass. The gores on this globe were hand-done in watercolor and not printed. Approximately 33" in diameter. Globe is on manufacturer's original custom-made chess-piece stand (stand is wooden and metal, and hand-painted with manufacturer's hallmark on base). Total height with stand: approximately 72".

This beautiful and grand globe was made by the venerable globe-makers, Greaves & Thomas, as a prototype for future, smaller globes (although they have recently begun to make larger versions). This globe re-creates the dream-like features in Carroll's Alice books. Some of the substituted constellations include: Aquarius is now the Mad Hatter holding his teapot, Pisces are the Fish Footmen, Taurus is the Mock Turtle, Aries is the sheep from the shop, Gemini are Tweedledee and Tweedledum (naturally), Cancer is the crab from the Caucus Race, Leo is the Lion (again, naturally), Virgo (the virgin) is Alice, Libra is the King of Hearts, Scorpio is the lobster, Sagittarius is the White Knight on his horse, and Capricorn is the goat from the railway carriage, and many others.

[With:] GREAVES & THOMAS. Alice's Celestial Globe. London: Greaves & Thomas, [2000]. 4to. Illustrated with one leaf of black and white photos, and several intertextual black and white illustrations after Tenniel. Original green cloth over printed boards, pictorial endleaves (some light rubbing, occasional soiling). PRE-PUBLICATION EDITION, LIMITED ISSUE, number 1 of 42 copies SIGNED BY THE PUBLISHER. Outlines the plan and design of the globe.

179. [AUTOMATON]. Playing card soldier on ladder with paint brush. N.p., n.d. [ca. 1930s-40s].

Hand-built and hand-painted metal, wood, cloth and plastic automaton. Custom-built card soldier (2 of spades) with decorative back (back appears to be covered with wallpaper). Approximately 24 x 23 x 71".

When plugged in, the ladder moves back and forth (in working condition). The usual wear, soiling due to age and use. This automaton appears to be based on a similar animatronic in the Disneyland dark ride attraction, Alice in Wonderland (1958), specifically, the "Painting the Roses Red" sequence. We have been told that this automaton was part of a department store window display (possibly Macy's - New York).

CONDITIONS OF SALE

The lots listed in this catalogue (whether printed or posted online) will be offered at public auction by Potter and Potter Auctions, Inc., as agent for consignor(s) subject to the following terms and conditions. By bidding at auction you agree to be bound by these Conditions of Sale.

PRIOR TO THE SALE

Please examine lots. Prospective buyers are strongly advised to “in person” or by personally retained Agent, examine any property in which they are interested before the auction takes place. Condition reports may be provided if requested in a timely manner.

Condition of lots, Warranties and Representations - All lots are sold “AS IS” and without recourse, and neither Potter and Potter Auctions, Inc. nor its consignor(s) makes any warranties or representations, express or implied with respect to such lots. Neither Potter and Potter Auctions, Inc. nor its consignor(s) makes any express or implied warranty or representation of any kind or nature with respect to merchantability, fitness for purpose, correctness of the catalogue or other description of the physical condition, size, quality, rarity, importance, medium, material, genuineness, attribution, provenance, period, source, origin, completeness, historical significance of any lot sold. The absence of any reference to the condition of a lot does not imply that the lot is in perfect condition or completely free from wear and tear, imperfections or the effects of aging. No statement, whether written or oral, and whether made in the catalogue, or in supplements to the catalogue, an advertisement, a bill of sale, a posting or announcement, the remarks of an auctioneer, or otherwise, shall be deemed to create any warranty, representation or assumption of liability. Potter and Potter Auctions, Inc. and its consignor(s) make no warranty or representation, express or implied, that the purchaser will acquire any copyright or reproduction rights to any lot sold.

AT THE SALE

Registration Before Bidding - A prospective buyer must complete and sign a registration form and provide identification before bidding. We may require bank or other financial references. Potter and Potter Auctions, Inc., is under no obligation to approve the registration of any prospective registrant.

Bidding as Principal - When making a bid, a bidder is accepting personal liability to pay the purchase price, including the buyer’s premium, all applicable taxes and all other applicable charges, unless it has been explicitly agreed upon in writing with Potter and Potter Auctions, Inc. before the commencement of the sale that the bidder is acting as agent on behalf of an identified third party acceptable to Potter and Potter Auctions, Inc., and that Potter and Potter Auctions, Inc. will only look to the principal for payment.

Absentee Bids - Potter and Potter Auctions, Inc. will use reasonable efforts to carry out written bids given to us prior to the sale for the convenience of clients who are not present at the auction in person. Bids must be placed in U.S. dollars. If we receive written bids on a particular lot for identical amounts, and these are the highest bids on the lot at the auction, it will be sold to the person whose written bid was received and accepted first. Execution of written bids is a free service undertaken subject to other commitments at the time of the sale and Potter and Potter Auctions, Inc. does not not accept liability for failing to execute a written bid or for errors and omissions in connection with such written bid(s).

Telephone Bids - If a prospective buyer makes arrangements with us prior to the commencement of the sale we will use reasonable efforts to contact said prospective buyer to enable them to participate in the bidding by telephone and we do not accept liability for failure to do so or for errors and omissions in connection with telephone bidding.

Bidding Increments - Expected bid increments are as follows:

Min Value	Max Value	Increment
$0.00	$29.00	$5.00
$30.00	$99.00	$10.00
$100.00	$499.00	$25.00
$500.00	$999.00	$50.00
$1000.00	$1,999.00	$100.00
$2,000.00	$4,999.00	$200.00
$5,000.00	$9,999.00	$500.00
$10,000.00	$19,999.00	$1,000.00
$20,000.00	$49,999.00	$2,000.00
$50,000.00	and above	10% of current bid

Note: the auctioneer may modify the increments at any time.

Reserves - Although the majority of the lots in the sale are offered without reserve, some lots in the sale may be subject to a reserve which is the confidential minimum price below which such lot will not be sold. The reserve will not exceed the low estimate of the lot. Reserves are agreed upon with consignors or, in the absence thereof, the absolute discretion of Potter and Potter Auctions, Inc. The auctioneer may open the bidding on any lot below the reserve by placing a bid on behalf of the seller. The auctioneer may continue to bid on behalf of the seller up to the amount of the reserve, either by placing consecutive bids or by placing bids in response to other bidders. With respect to lots that are offered without reserve, unless there are already competing bids, the auctioneer, in his or her discretion, will generally open the bidding at half of the low estimate for the lot. In the absence of a bid at that level, the auctioneer may proceed backwards at his or her discretion until a bid is recognized, and then continue up from that amount.

Auctioneer’s Discretion - The auctioneer has the right at his or her absolute and sole discretion to refuse any bid, to advance the bidding in such a manner as he or she may decide, to withdraw any lot, and in the case of error or dispute, and whether during or after the sale, to determine the successful bidder, to continue the bidding, to cancel the sale or to reoffer and resell the item in dispute. If any dispute arises after the sale, our sale record is conclusive.

Successful Bid - The highest bidder acknowledged by the auctioneer will be the purchaser. In the case of a tie bid, the winning bidder will determined by the auctioneer at his or her sole discretion. In the event of a dispute between bidders, the auctioneer has final discretion to determine the successful bidder or to reoffer the lot in dispute. If any dispute arises after the sale, the Potter and Potter Auctions, Inc. sale record shall be conclusive. Title passes upon the fall of the auctioneer’s hammer to the highest acknowledged bidder subject to the Conditions of Sale set forth herein, and the bidder assumes full risk and responsibility.

AFTER THE SALE

Buyer’s Premium - In addition to the hammer price, the buyer agrees to pay Potter and Potter Auctions, Inc. a buyer’s premium of 20%, and the applicable sales tax added to the final total.

Payment - The buyer must pay the entire amount due (including the hammer price, buyer’s premium, all applicable taxes and other charges) no later than 5 p.m. on the seventh (7) business day following the sale. Payment in U.S. dollars may be made with cash; bank check or cashier’s check drawn on a U.S. bank; money order; or wire transfer unless other arrangements are made with Potter and Potter Auctions, Inc. Potter Auctions, Inc. reserves the right to hold merchandise purchased by personal check until the check has cleared the bank. The purchaser agrees to pay Potter and Potter Auctions, Inc. a handling charge of $50 for any check dishonored by the drawee. In the event buyer desires to pay by using a credit card, a convenience fee equaling 2.5% of the entire amount due shall be added to the buyer’s invoice.

Shipping Terms - By Potter & Potter. Choice of packing and shipping method is strictly at the discretion of Potter and Potter Auctions. P&P generally provides in house shipping via FedEx or USPS to winning bidders.

Please allow 3—4 weeks for delivery.

Customer’s obligation to inspect and report claims. Potter and Potter professionally and safely packs and ships thousands of items every year, and insurance is provided for successful purchasers. In the unlikely event that damage or loss occurs, these are subject to our insurance carrier’s rules and limitations. Customers are required to report, in writing, any damage or loss within 72 hours of receipt of merchandise. The carrier’s delivery record shall be conclusive as to this matter.

Correcting Shipping Address and report of non-receipt: Prior to shipping winning lots, customers must provide Potter and Potter with a current and accurate shipping address. Once an order has been shipped, any address changes or updates are subject to a $25.00 return to Sender fee, in addition to shipping charges.

In the event an item is lost during transit, it is customer’s obligation to report non-receipt within 7 days of the date on which the item(s) were shipped.

Third-party shipping. Certain large, high-value, and fragile items will require the services of a professional packing and transportation company, or pick-up directly from our gallery. We suggest that you contact our Shipping Department before the sale for advice on the shipping and handling requirements that apply to the lots of interest to you.

If third-party shipping is chosen by the buyer or required by Potter & Potter, the buyer will arrange for removal of the merchandise from P&P within 15 days following the sale and must communicate and coordinate removal arrangements with P&P during regular business hours (Monday – Friday, 9am – 5pm).

Arrangements for third-party transportation are the responsibility of the buyer. We will not be responsible for the acts or omissions of carriers and packers whether recommended or not by us. Property will not be released to the shipper without the buyer’s written consent and until payment has been made in full. Unless otherwise agreed, all purchases should be removed by the 15th day following the sale.

Risk of loss or damage in shipment. Any risk of loss or damage to the shipment through a third party carrier, once the item is removed from Potter and Potter, is at the risk of the buyer, and Potter & Potter is not liable for loss or damage of these items.

Ship to address. The winning bidder is responsible for providing Potter & Potter with an accurate address for the order destination as well as specific instructions for delivery.

Shipping costs. Shipping costs include charges for labor, materials, insurance, as well as actual shipper’s fees. Buyer agrees to reimburse Potter & Potter the difference if actual shipper’s fees exceed the invoice amount.

Storage fees. Potter & Potter will charge a storage fee of $50 per week for any orders awaiting payment and/or removal for more than 15 days following the auction date. This cost shall constitute a lien against such property, which may be removed to a public warehouse at the risk, account, and expense of the purchaser.

International shipping. Potter and Potter ships internationally. All shipments will include an itemized invoice with the actual and correct purchase totals including the buyer's premium and shipping cost. International buyers are responsible for knowing their country's laws on importing items as well as paying all customs and duties fees on purchased items.

Non-Payment – If we do not receive payment in full, in good cleared funds, within seven (7) business days following the sale, we are entitled in our absolute discretion to exercise one or more of the following measures, in addition to any additional actions available to us by law: (1) to impose a late charge of one and a half percent (1.5%) per thirty (30) days of the total purchase price, prorated to commence on the date of the sale; (2) to hold the defaulting buyer liable for the total amount due and to begin legal proceedings for its recovery together with interest, legal fees and costs to the fullest extent permitted under applicable law; (3) to rescind the sale; (4) to resell the property publicly or privately with such terms as we find appropriate; (5) to resell the property at public auction without reserve, and with the purchaser liable for any deficiency, cost, including handling charges, the expenses of both sales, our commission on both sales at our regular rate, all other charges due hereunder and incidental damages. In addition, a defaulting purchaser will be deemed to have granted us a security interest in, and we may retain as collateral security for such purchaser's obligations to us, any property in our possession owned by such purchaser. At our option, payment will not be deemed to have been made in full until we have collected funds represented by checks, or in the case of bank or cashier's checks, we have confirmed their authenticity; (6) to offset against any amount owed; (7) to not allow any bids at any upcoming auction by or on behalf of the buyer; (8) to take other action as we find necessary or appropriate.

LIABILITY

Condition Reports – Potter and Potter Auctions, Inc. is not responsible for the correctness of any statement of any kind concerning any lot, whether written or oral, nor for any other errors or omissions in description or for any faults or defects in any lot. Neither the seller, ourselves, our officers, employees or agents, give any representation, warranty or guarantee or assume any liability of any kind in respect of any lot with regard to merchantability, fitness for a particular purpose, description, size, quality, completeness, condition, attribution, authenticity, rarity, importance, medium, provenance, prior ownership history, or historical relevance. Except as required by local law any warranty of any kind whatsoever is excluded by this paragraph.

Purchased Lots – If for any reason a purchased lot cannot be delivered in the same condition as at the time of sale, or should any purchased lot be stolen, mis-delivered or lost prior to delivery, Potter and Potter Auctions, Inc. shall not be liable for any amount in excess of that paid by the purchaser.

Legal Ramifications – The rights and obligations of the parties with respect to these Conditions of Sale, the conduct of the auction and any matters connected with any of the foregoing shall be governed and interpreted by the laws of the jurisdiction in Illinois. If any part of these Conditions of Sale is found by any court to be invalid, illegal or unenforceable, that part shall be discounted and the rest of the conditions shall continue to be valid to the fullest extent permitted by law.

Discretion - Any and all of the conditions may be waived or modified in the sole discretion of Potter and Potter Auctions, Inc.

Potter and Potter offers historically significant items which may include culturally insensitive material, including but not limited to racist and sexist content. The content and form of such items does not reflect the views or values of the auctioneers or staff.
